Mechanical

I was born and raised in Illinois I currently live in Branson mo. My dob is 5/18/1985 I'm a father and a husband I love my wife and 5 children they mean everything to me. I believe in trying to be the best person I can be whether it's honesty or punctuality. I'm a workaholic at least that's what my wife says anyway. We are always striving to do better for our children.

I was home schooled by a certified teacher who was also my foster parent. I almost finished was almost done with 12th and I decided to finish later to find my birth family but I have had intentions to get my ged.

More about me

I have been a mechanic for 20 years working with my hands and fixing things has always been my passion. I am a self taught welder some mild fabrication skills. I do my best to help others I don't judge others life is hard enough without others making it difficult. I believe if I'm not 30 minutes early I m late. The biggest thing about me is family they are most important thing in life to me that is why I strive to do better is for them to give them a life I never had.
